

CRYING NEED OF MIN-

Metallurgical Society of America has submitted a number of amendments ommendations will prevail in congress despite the high character and stand

It is the belief out west that the in the east will fight any new min tend to give anyone such etensive appears to be to retail the fee sim ple to all public lands in the govern ment, leasing the same on a royalty instead of allowing unappropriated lands to be taken for development

The recommendations, however, of the society are well worth pondering over and it certainly is up to the its development upon the statute books, or at least to fight as hard for its rights as the conservation ists are fighting to prevent these rights being realized. The amend

1. The mining law should be re vised, not piecemeal, but thoroughly so as to co-ordinate and harmonize able regardless of the "discovery" fied development work is performed

3. Placer locations should be lim ited to deposits of loose material above solid bed rock. The locator should have a preference right to locate also any lodes developed on

4. A statute of limitations should establish a reasonable term of years beyond which placer patents shall be immune from attacks on the

5. Provision should be made for the location and working of petroleum, phosphates, rare earths, haloids and other mineral substances not specifically mentioned in the present

6. Full privilege of appeal to some competent court of law should be provided for in all cases of contests between rival claimants, or between 7 Notices of mining locations should be so recorded as to give the fullest possible notice to the world

8. The apex law should be abol
